Mission

The Sam Houston State University School of Music exists as a community of musician-educators whose mission is:

- To educate and train students for lives of service and contribution — as teachers, performers, composers, therapists and scholars;
- To provide and nurture a nucleus of musical life for the larger community;
- To educate the university student population regarding music's intrinsic value as a part of the human experience and its central role in human culture;
- To mutually encourage one another in professional growth and attainment.

Our mission encompasses a variety of programs and curricula, traditional and innovative which are regularly examined for effectiveness, quality and relevance. It includes our commitment to a combination of:

- Classroom studies in music;
- The live performance of music both individually and collectively, as central to music study, development and knowledge.

As an integral part of our mission, we commit ourselves to continuing steps toward realizing the full potential of community, both as teachers and as colleagues; further, we commit to interaction with our students that emphasizes personal attention and interest in their total musical/intellectual development.

Highlights

The School of Music is part of the College of Fine Arts and Mass Communication. The college brings together a faculty of artists and educators in a collaboratively creative environment to enrich the lives of students and the community. Pre-professional programs are offered in many areas as preparatory courses for entrance into graduate schools and the professions.

The School of Music is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. There are currently more than 450 music majors (Bachelor and Master of Music combined) pursuing degrees in performance, composition, music therapy, and music education with teacher certification. Students have excellent performing opportunities in outstanding choral and instrumental ensembles, as well as jazz, opera, and chamber groups.

The Music faculty includes a community of internationally recognized performers, scholars and educators. With an outstanding student-to-teacher ratio, students receive close, personal attention and many opportunities to interact with dedicated professionals.

The James and Nancy Gaertner Performing Arts Center, which opened in 2010, comprises an 800-seat concert hall, 180-seat recital hall, 150-seat dance theatre, scene shop, dance and theatre rehearsal rooms. The building is graced with multiple areas to display the Center's expanding art collection. The School of Music Building, which opened in 1986, features large rehearsal halls, classrooms, a piano lab, a music computer lab, an electronic music studio, practice rooms and faculty and administrative offices. The School of Music has excellent facilities to accomplish its artistic and educational mission.

Career Opportunities

Graduates of the School of Music are successfully employed around the state, the nation, and internationally as:

- music educators
- music therapists
- musical performers
- music scholars
- music composers
- music industry professionals

Student Organizations and Activities

Numerous student organizations actively promote enrichment across a wide array of musical interests.

American Choral Directors Association – national organization for choral directors. Student membership available in organization that fosters and promotes choral music.

American String Teachers Association/Symphony Association – the group's membership consists of string students at Sam Houston State University and was organized to support string pedagogy on the SHSU campus.

National Association for Music Education – national organization for music education. Membership in this student chapter is open to music education majors.

Mu Tau Omega – student organization for music therapy. Membership open to interested students committed to the study and/or advancement of music therapy in community, educational, and clinical settings.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia – international music fraternity for men. Provides valuable service to the school and community.

Pi Kappa Lambda – national music honor society. Invitation to membership is limited to the top students from the junior, senior, and graduate classes by vote of the faculty members of Pi Kappa Lambda.

Sigma Alpha Iota – international music fraternity for women. Provides valuable service to the school and community.

Tau Beta Sigma – national band sorority. Supports band studies and provides valuable support service to instrumental ensembles and to the school.

Internships (Music Therapy)

Following the completion of all coursework, the music therapy student must fulfill a 900-1,040 hour (five to six month) clinical internship at an AMTA national roster internship site or an SHSU university-affiliated internship site. The intern must be supervised on-site by a qualified and approved MT-BC supervisor. The internship is the final requirement for graduating with the bachelor's degree in music therapy. Once it has been completed, the individual is eligible to sit for the board certification examination. A passing grade on the exam will result in board certification and the credentials MT-BC.

Scholarships

Scholarships are available both from the School of Music and from the University to support student study. For more information regarding scholarships, prospective or current students should contact the Director of the School of Music. Information on University scholarships may be obtained from the Office of Academic Scholarships (<https://www.shsu.edu/dept/financial-aid/scholarships>) website or telephone (936) 294-1672. Interested persons may also gather more information from the School of Music website.

Music scholarships are awarded for participation in ensembles. All students awarded a music scholarship are required to perform in ensembles. Scholarship students will audition and perform in ensembles as required.
