Prerequisite: None.

LITC 7350. Qualitative Methods in Lit Edu. 3 Hours.
This course provides both theoretical and practical dimensions of qualitative research. Various paradigms of qualitative research, such as case study analysis, naturalistic inquiry, discourse analysis, ethnography, and narrative analysis are addressed in this course. Students will engage in data collection, analysis, and reporting of an individualized research project. The research project will enable students to summarize empirical evidence related to psychological, sociological, and linguistic foundations of reading and writing processes and instruction. Students will conduct and publish research and contribute to the development of the knowledge base.

Prerequisite: Admission into the Ed.D. program in Literacy Leadership.

LITC 7358. Adv Studies In Literacy Rsch. 3 Hours.
This course will allow doctoral students to learn and apply mixed-methods models to their research agendas. It will extend their research experiences beyond the limits of strictly qualitative or quantitative and allow for more applicability of their future research efforts. Social Science research continues to stress the importance of analyzing data from a variety of perspectives. Expertise in the mixed methods model will encourage doctoral students to examine data from multiple perspectives.

Prerequisite: None.

LITC 7360. Virtual Ethnography. 3 Hours.
This course will enrich students’ existing qualitative research methodologies by providing them with timely research to overcome the barriers that are inherent in accessing and working with data sets located in remote sites. Students will also be introduced to emerging mixed-methods models as a means of dealing with the methodological and epistemological challenges presented by the field of Virtual Ethnography.

Prerequisite: None.
