The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) marketable skills initiative is part of the state's 60x30TX plan and was designed to help students articulate their skills to employers. Marketable skills are those skills valued by employers and/or graduate programs that can be applied in a variety of work or education settings and may include interpersonal, cognitive, and applied skill areas.

The Undergraduate Certificate in Communication for Sport Professionals is designed to provide graduates with the following marketable skills:

- Identify communication theories, principles, and research methods.
- Apply strategic communication principles related to sport professionals.
- Demonstrate interpersonal communication competence in sport contexts.
- Synthesize information and present different viewpoints related to sport communication.
- Demonstrate effective verbal and nonverbal communication skills in sport settings.
- Demonstrate effective leadership of small groups in sport contexts.
- Gather and evaluate information critically.
